FreightWaves Market Monitor

Freight market intelligence, distilled for faster decisions

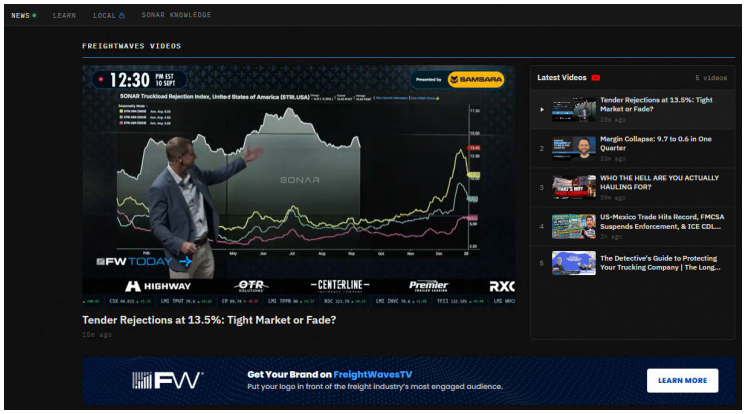

A faster way to read the freight market

Powered by SONAR, Market Monitor brings the freight market into one focused daily view with key market signals, plain-English interpretation, curated intelligence, and flexible charting.

Market Monitor is built for freight professionals who need a clear view of market direction without spending time building dashboards or decoding dozens of datasets. Track pricing, demand, capacity, fuel, intermodal, rail, ocean, and broader economic signals in one place.

What Market Monitor Helps You Answer

- Is freight demand strengthening or softening?
- Is capacity tightening, and where could pricing pressure follow?
- How are spot, contract, and fuel trends moving together?
- What signals should I be watching before the market shifts?
- How can I quickly share the market story with my team or customers?

Core Capabilities

- Live SONAR Market Signals: Follow 29 key freight indices across tender volumes and rejections, rates, fuel, intermodal, rail, ocean, LMI, and macro indicators, updated daily.
- AI Market Interpretations: Get a plain-English read of what each market move means so you can move from data to context faster.
- The Daily Briefing: Start with a curated freight briefing that highlights top stories, important index moves, and what to watch.
